Submission Guidelines

Welcome to the guidelines for contributing to AfroScenes, our employee magazine.

This publication is a unique platform to keep you updated on our business strategy and feed back to you on important industry and company events. We want you to join us in celebrating our wins and our good work in the communities we serve, to empower you to help us keep our business safe in a digital age, to guide you in living your healthiest and best life - and importantly, to celebrate the accomplishments of individuals and teams who exemplify our culture in alignment with our company's mission and values.

To ensure the articles reflect our purpose and culture, please adhere to the following requirements when submitting articles for consideration in the Our People segment.
