

Boulevard of care

Description

Nelson Mandela believed that freedom from hunger is a cornerstone of human dignity – and that every child deserves the opportunity to grow, learn, and thrive.

Inspired by his vision, our amazing colleagues at Boulevard, joined by helping hands from EssentialMed and DENIS, came together to make a meaningful difference.

The teams packed food parcels for Silverleaf Primary School in Dunoon, a no-fee school serving over 1,300 bright young learners, and for Ladles of Love, a powerful force in food relief across Cape Town – supporting community kitchens, early childhood centres, schools, and shelters.

This Mandela Day, we didn't just pack food – we packed hope, care, and the promise of a better tomorrow.
