

Let's collaborate

Description

At AfroCentric, we value open communication and ongoing collaboration as we forge forward to build an even stronger business. We aim to keep you abreast of all things health for a stronger year ahead.

default watermark

Last December, we asked you to submit your holiday pictures, and we were delighted with your response. There were some stunning photos, and we are thrilled to feature one of them in this issue. We want to take this opportunity to thank everyone who submitted their pictures and congratulate the selected photographer.

This platform is your go-to source for updates on various campaigns and business news. We want to ensure that you have access to all the information you need to stay informed and engaged with the work we do. Whether it's sharing the progress of our current campaigns or updating you on the latest business news, we're here to keep you in the loop.

But this is a two-way street. For us to always be in sync with your expectations, we value your feedback and we're always looking for ways to improve. Whether it's through surveys or informal conversations, we want to hear from you.

We understand that our organisation is made up of a diverse group of individuals with unique experiences and perspectives. We want to celebrate this diversity and help create a workplace that is inclusive and welcoming to all. By participating in team activities, and sharing your stories we can learn from one another and create a more supportive and collaborative work environment.

We encourage you to continue to engage with us, share your stories and submit your suggestions.

I hope you enjoy this issue as much as we had fun collating it for you. Plus, there are some great winning stories from across the business. Looking forward to the exciting contributions that we can include in the upcoming editions.

Happy reading

Palesa Makhetha

Category

1. ED's Letter

default watermark